

Theatre Royal Norwich Inflatables

Crocodile

The Crocodile is a single inflatable unit blown up by a two fans running off two 16A Cee form plugs (this can be converted down to a 13A or 15A supply). Inflation time is approximately 15 seconds.

The Crocodile is best preset inflated offstage and can be easily pushed onstage to a position where the rear (offstage edge) is still out of audience sightlines. The mouth opens and closes operated by a line at the rear of the effect. A “victim” can fall into the mouth and move through into the throat, exiting from the rear, as if eaten.

The inflatable lives uninflated and folded in a wheeled box when not in use and can be deployed ready for inflation in less than a minute.
